HARTPURY FESTIVAL OF DRESSAGE 2026

CDI1* | CDI3* | CPEDI3* | Premier League

WELCOME

> A foreword from the Vice-Chancellor, Executive Principal and CEO

Welcome to the NAF Hartpury Festival of Dressage.

It is my great pleasure to welcome competitors, owners, officials, sponsors, volunteers and spectators to Hartpury for one of the highlights of the national and international dressage calendars.

The NAF Hartpury Festival of Dressage showcases the very best of our sport, bringing together world-class combinations, emerging talent and passionate supporters in an environment that celebrates excellence in equestrianism. We are proud to host a competition that attracts riders from across Britain and beyond, while providing an inspiring experience for everyone who visits our campus.

Hartpury has a long-standing commitment to equine education, research and performance, and events such as this demonstrate the strength of our connections with the wider equestrian community. The Festival provides a unique opportunity to witness outstanding sporting performances while highlighting the facilities, expertise and opportunities that make Hartpury such a special place.

Events of this scale would not be possible without the dedication of many individuals and organisations. I would like to extend my sincere thanks to our competitors, owners, officials, volunteers, sponsors, partners and the Hartpury team whose hard work and commitment help make the Festival a success year after year.

Whether you are competing, supporting a rider, visiting our trade village, or enjoying dressage for the first time, I hope you have a memorable and enjoyable experience at Hartpury. Thank you for joining us, and I wish all competitors the very best of luck throughout the competition.

IN MEMORIAM

Stephen Clarke

Everyone at Hartpury was deeply saddened by the recent passing of Stephen Clarke, a true giant of international dressage and a cherished friend of Hartpury.

For many years, Stephen was an integral part of Hartpury Equine and the NAF Hartpury Festival of Dressage, serving with distinction as a member and President of the Ground Jury. Through his expertise, integrity and unwavering commitment to excellence, he helped shape the Festival into one of the most respected competitions on the international calendar. He also played a significant role in Hartpury's hosting of the FEI Young Rider and Junior European Championships, bringing his knowledge and leadership to some of the sport's most important events.

Stephen's contribution to Hartpury extended far beyond the competition arena. A trusted advisor, passionate advocate for dressage and valued supporter of our Gala Evenings, he shared his remarkable insight, humour and storytelling with colleagues and guests alike. His appearances ahead of the London 2012 and Rio 2016 Olympic Games remain particularly fond memories for many.

What set Stephen apart was his rare ability to combine authority with warmth and kindness. Whether mentoring developing judges, supporting fellow officials or engaging with riders, he always gave his time generously and earned the respect and admiration of all who had the privilege of working with him.

Hartpury has benefited enormously from Stephen's guidance, wisdom and friendship over many years. His influence is reflected in the standards of excellence that continue to define our events today, and his legacy will remain woven into the fabric of the Festival he helped to build.

We extend our heartfelt condolences to Stephen's family, friends and the wider equestrian community. We are profoundly grateful for the role he played in our journey and for the lasting impact he made on our sport.

Stephen will be greatly missed, but he will always be remembered as an important part of the Hartpury story and as one of dressage's most respected and admired figures. We will take time during this year's Festival to honour his memory and celebrate his remarkable contribution to equestrian sport.

HORSE WELFARE

Putting Welfare First

At Hartpury, we aim to take a horse first approach. As a leading equine education, research and competition venue, we are committed to providing an environment where horses can perform, develop and thrive while maintaining the highest standards of care and wellbeing.

The NAF Hartpury Festival of Dressage is conducted in accordance with the rules and regulations of both British Dressage and the Fédération Equestre Internationale (FEI).

These regulations are designed to safeguard horse welfare, ensure fair competition and promote the highest standards of horsemanship across all levels of the sport.

Hartpury University and Hartpury College also operates strong safeguarding policies, as it does year-round, to ensure the safety and welfare of all those in attendance.

Our officials, veterinary teams, stewards and event staff work together throughout the event to ensure welfare standards are upheld. Horse welfare remains the overriding priority in all decision-making, both in and out of the competition arena.

A Commitment Beyond Competition

As a specialist education and research institution, Hartpury's commitment to equine welfare extends far beyond hosting events. Through our academic programmes, research activity and industry partnerships, we actively contribute to advancing knowledge and best practice across the equestrian sector.

Our staff and students are engaged in research that explores equine health, performance, behaviour, biomechanics and management, helping to inform evidence-based approaches that support both horse welfare and athletic performance. We are proud to work alongside industry partners, governing bodies and practitioners to ensure that welfare remains central to the future development of equestrian sport.

Throughout the NAF Hartpury Festival of Dressage, competitors and support teams are expected to uphold the highest standards of horse care and sportsmanship. Our facilities, veterinary provision, stabling arrangements and competition management processes are designed to support the welfare needs of competing horses and provide a safe and enjoyable experience for all participants.

We thank every competitor, owner, groom, official and supporter for their shared commitment to horse welfare. By working together, we can ensure that the wellbeing of the horse remains the foundation of our sport and the key measure of its success.

At Hartpury, welfare is not simply a requirement of competition, it is a core value that underpins everything we do.
